

AGING MATTERS

CAREGIVING

RSVP at: events@fiftyforward.org or call (615) 743-3400.

The existence and impact of informal caregiving are often overlooked in the United States. Caregiving will become more important, relevant and necessary as people live longer and Baby Boomers age and create a strain on the long-term and healthcare system.

What is needed to address this issue and soften the impact?

Aging Matters: Caregiving, the third episode in NPT's Aging Matters series, focuses on the issues surrounding informal caregiving - including a fragmented formal system for dealing with long-term care, the effects of caregiving on the health and income of family and friends -- and what to expect, and how to plan, for the next "Boom" in the aging and for those who care for them.

Aging Matters: Caregiving premieres on NPT, Thursday, July 17 at 8 p.m.

Nashville Public Television and FiftyForward invite you to a luncheon and preview screening of NPT's new documentary

NPT Reports: Aging Matters - Caregiving

Monday, July 14, 2014

11:30 am - 1 pm

Panel discussion to follow; Lunch provided

FiftyForward/Patricia Hart Building

174 Rains Ave. Nashville, Tenn. 37203

Aging Matters: Caregiving Panel (to follow video):

Gretchen Funk, MSW, FiftyForward Care Team Director will lead a discussion with a Care Team client about her family's caregiving journey which included the development and implementation of a care plan to address the family's needs. Other service providers will be on hand to join in the discussion. Caregiving resources and supportive materials will also be available.